

“FROM ENTREPRENEUR TO RACONTEUR”

Mike Lewis, the Club's favourite after-dinner speaker

Mike Lewis, an “exiled Welshman”, became Chairman of the International Steel Trade Association in London, representing the UK on Consultative Committees in Brussels. The Guest Speaker at his inaugural luncheon was Sir Monty Finniston, Chairman of British Steel.

As the industry collapsed, Mike concentrated on his growing reputation as an After Dinner Speaker and launched his website which was an immediate success. To date he has entertained at over 2000 gatherings, often at exclusive venues such as the Savoy Hotel and the RAF Club in Piccadilly, performing alongside Sporting Greats such as: Willie John McBride, Bernard Gallacher, John Conteh, Alec Stewart, Bob Champion - the list is endless.
